

SUMMARY

The Singapore Management University (SMU) was invited together with the Nanyang Technological University (NTU) for an information sharing session by the Indian radio station Oli 96.8FM. This programme is a casual get together to know about the different universities in Singapore and to allow the next batch of students entering universities to make their ideal choice. The speakers from SMU were Kala Devi D/O Ramasamy and Naseema Banu D/O Maideen Pitchay, both of whom are majoring in marketing. The speakers from NTU were Rathi Rajan, majoring in accountancy, and Senthil Priya, majoring in computer science.

Questions:

- What is life like in the uni?
- What is the ratio of Indian students in your uni?
- What are the activities that you are involved in during holidays?
- How does your uni prepare you for the outside world?
- What are the courses that prepare you for these?
- Tell about the activities in your school
- How can students enhance themselves?
- What are the facilities that help in your learning on campus?
- What is something that you would dearly miss after you graduate?

The students from SMU elaborated on the different activities that take place on campus and shared information about the clubs and societies they are involved in. Mainly they talked about the activities the Indian students in SMU engage in. Moreover, they gave overviews about the various facilities that are available at SMU. They also talked about the commitments that make up their stay in SMU, such as the community service and internships. From their point of view, they stressed that the overseas exchange programmes are something that should not be missed by any student who aspires to gain admission to SMU. Courses such as Communications and Strategy and the Finishing Touch were highlighted, when the students were asked how they enhanced themselves personally. They also noted that the many projects requiring fieldwork and hands-on-experience are among the features they like most about SMU.
