Day 3: National Museum, Singapore
Management University, National Library

- At the National Museum in Stamford Road, sample Lars Bergström & Mats Bigert’s video installation, The Last Supper. Go for a close encounter with Mariko Mori’s mysterious sculpture Tom Na H-iu. There’s also Mark Wallinger’s Angel video of the artist reciting the Gospel of John in a train station.

- Across the road, Shigeru Ban’s Paper House sits on the campus of the Singapore Management University.

- View Eugenio Ampudia’s Play video at the National Library in Victoria Street. Wilfredo Prieto’s White Library installation gets you thinking about knowledge and memory.

SINGAPORE MANAGEMENT UNIVERSITY

70 Stamford Road
10am to 6pm daily

DRiK PICTURE LIBRARY, BELIEF AND PRACTICES, PUBLIC ART

This Dhaka-based collective of photographers and journalists document change in Bangladesh. Pictured here is a photograph depicting an arrested student shouting to his peers for help from a prison van.