SINGAPORE: Singapore artist Chua Ek Kay launched 20 artworks at the Singapore Management University (SMU) on Tuesday.

These works, presented to the public for the first time, depict old shophouses, narrow alleyways and historical sites in areas such as Bras Basah, Little India and Chinatown.

The artworks are valued at over S$300,000.

They will be permanently housed in SMU's Lee Kong Chian School of Business. - CNA /ls
