First batch of law students for SMU

THE Singapore Management University (SMU) welcomed its inaugural batch of law undergraduates on Saturday. The pioneer batch is made up of 117 students.

The university also welcomed students from South Africa, Holland and New Zealand for the first time.

But the bulk of SMU's foreign intake of about 310 students – 20 per cent of their total intake – still comes from nearer to home, with nine in 10 from India, China and ASEAN countries.

Some 200 students also received scholarships, which include the newly-introduced SMU Study Award.
