SMU School of Law's cutting-edge legal education has become a refreshing change in the tertiary landscape. It combines the distinctive SMU's holistic education of broad-based curriculum and interactive pedagogy grounded in ethics and social responsibility with its own "Tread" - a curriculum formulated and taught by leading legal academics and practitioners, a compulsory internship in a legal entity, pro-bono legal aid work and community service, international student exchanges and a law study mission. It spawns a new generation of legal eagles ready to be off and soar into the highest stratosphere, covering corporate and commercial law, criminal law, family law, international law, shipping law and public law. Every major law firm has offered our graduates a training contract. It speaks volumes of their promise, bar none.
