An overweight child is at risk of more health problems later in life, so parents have to make lifestyle changes to ensure he grows up healthy.